Reject proposal for landfill

Madison County ought to reject the 210-acre landfill planned for the Horseshoe Lake area of Nameoki Township.
A processing plant and storage site for baled garbage is proposed by Environmental Control Systems (ECS) of Springfield, on land northwest of the I-70-55/Illinois III intersection a half-mile east of Bend Road. Compacted bales weighing as much as two tons would be stacked and covered with soil up to an eventual height of 85 feet.
Three days of testimony have painted a disturbing picture:
FIRST DAY — The ECS site would accept waste from a 100-mile radius, not just Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties. Its investors include the family or a man who owned property at Wilsonville in Macoupin County, where the Bob Stille of the Regional Pollution Control Board said, "There's been a lot of misrepresentations" associated with the site proposal. ... A lot of information that was supposed to be in the application has been left out. Mike Coulson, manager of a $350,000 bi-state area study completed this year

35 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

In 1955 Jack Dempsey and Don Adams formed Granite City Glass Co.

They opened in a small unheated building In Izzie McGiff's Junk Yard at the corner of 18th and Cleveland that is now a parking lot for Dron Electric. Windshields were stored at Shelton's Laundry. Deliveries were made with the pair's 1940 Dodge coupe. Fourteen hour work days were common as windows in locomotives were replaced at night at Granite City Steel and in the rail yards.

At the time Granite City Glass was Formed in 1955

- The AFL-CIO was formed
- A craze was sweeping American colleges as students attempted to learn how many people could squeeze into a telephone booth or small car.
- Matiyn Monroe received 5,000 pieces of fan mail each week and Yogl Berra of the Yankees and Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers were baseball's Most Valuable Players

- Paddlers Swim Club started its membership drive. Dempsey Adams delivered the Paddler's sign to a wheat field on Johnson Road.
- Irv State won the $3000 CIO Steelworkers Schotarship and Nelson Hagnauer was elected Assistant Township Supervisor.
